Summary

As an Interior Designer with PTD, you will create designs and presentations for a variety of projects, including, but not limited to: hospitality, retail, residential, and workspace. Depending on your skills, you may also contribute to branding, graphic design, and product design initiatives. This is both a Creative and a Production/Technical role, and you will report to the Design Director as well as the Principal/Creative Director for each project. The Design Director and Principal are primarily responsible for setting the design direction and overall project management. You may be responsible for leading smaller projects or portions of larger projects independently.

Tasks/Responsibilities

Design

You will collaborate with the Design Director, Senior Interior Designers and Architects in creating designs and delivering presentations based on deliverables set forth in the contract and PTD's production standards. You will be expected to complete the following tasks independently, contributing your work to the overall project team's effort:

- Conduct field measurements, create as-built drawing in AutoCAD LT
- Develop designs
- Create 3D models in SketchUp and Enscape
- Render elevations in Photoshop
- Create mood boards in Adobe InDesign
- Create drawings (plans, elevations, RCPs, millwork details) in AutoCAD LT
- Hand sketch to convey design concepts
- Conduct narrative research
- Pull research images, identify project attributes and story
- Source materials and furniture appropriate to the use/location and within the project budget
- Create complete design presentations in Adobe InDesign incorporating the above

- Finish and fixture schedules
- FF&E matrix and specifications
- FF&E Budgets and reports

Execution

Provide construction administration services:

- Attend and report on field visits
- Create punch lists
- Communicate/Update project status to project manager and/or client

Administration

- Set up & Maintain project files and folders in accordance with PTD's and industry architectural standards
- Maintain a working check set of all deliverable documents
- Write and issue meeting notes for external design meetings
- Request/Obtain samples, product information, budget pricing, and lead time information for materials specified on projects
- Update and source new materials and develop strong relationships with vendors
- Collaborate and communicate frequently with others outside the Company (clients, consultants, vendors, contractors, tradespeople, etc.). This will be collaborative, with consultants; instructive, giving information to contractors, trades, or manufacturers; and inquiries, such as requesting product information from vendors.

Goals & Expectations

- Our goal is to support your growth as a designer in a highly collaborative, multi-disciplinary studio environment
- We expect that you are fluent with the software programs mentioned above. We will provide in-house, on-the-job training for Enscape and DesignSpec if needed.
- We expect that you will follow the Company's standards for design process and project execution, including file naming and established work processes and templates
- This role contributes to the Company as a whole and toward client satisfaction by helping the team provide deliverables on time and at a high level of professional quality
